PROFESSIONAL PROFILE — VERSION 1, BOATS FIRST

Offshore cook, deckhand and galley steward for crab boats, whale boats, fishing boats, wind-farm vessels, oil and gas rigs, PSVs, tankers, supply ships, Holland and North Sea vessels. Twenty-five years feeding people at volume, on long hours, in the cold, to a hygiene standard that transfers straight to a galley. Previous Norway work in Molde (2014–2016), D-number held. Owns a 36.6 ft Dutch steel sailboat, Kees. No seasickness. Cook first, deck if you train me. Not a rigger, not a roustabout. Immediate start. Norway first, then the wider North Sea and Dutch coast.

SEA-RELEVANT SKILLS FROM GALLEY YEARS

Volume. Continuous production for a full watch. Large crew feeding, back-to-back services, stock ready before the next sitting.

Seafood. Fish handling, butchery and specialised fish dishes. Japanese and Asian seafood technique. Directly useful on crab boats, fishing boats and whale boats.

Long hours. Early starts, late finishes, physical work, short nights. Used to a confined galley and staying on the job.

Cold. Norwegian coastal winters in Molde, own steel sailboat, comfortable working wet and cold for long periods.

Hygiene. Food Hygiene Level 3 HACCP, temperature control, stock rotation, allergen control, MLC 2006 galley standard.

AT SEA

Own vessel — Kees, 36.6 ft Dutch steel sailboat

Practical time at sea, deck work, no seasickness, cold and long passages.

Norwegian coast — Molde, 2014–2016

High-volume seafood and Asian production in a Norwegian working environment. D-number held. Cold shifts, long hours, hygiene under pressure.

OPEN FOR

Crab boats, whale boats, fishing boats, wind-farm vessels, oil and gas rigs, PSVs, tankers, supply ships, Holland and North Sea vessels. Galley is the main job. Deckhand if trained on the boat.
